MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS IN FICTION

These novels explore and celebrate the enduring relationship between mothers and daughters. The Newton Free Library has over 1300 novels about the relationship between mothers and daughters. Use the Subject heading Mothers and Daughters – Fiction to find other fiction titles. The books may also be available in other formats – paperback books, Large Print editions, CD audiobooks, and downloadable E-books. Please speak to a Reference Librarian if you need help in locating a particular title. The Call Number for each title on this list appears underlined at the end of the entry after the date.

Alvarez, Julia. In the Name of Salomé: A Novel. 2000. FIC ALVAREZ J
Campbell, Bebe Moore. 72 Hour Hold. 2005. FIC CAMPBELL B
Cleage, Pearl. Babylon Sisters. 2005. FIC CLEAGUE
Divakaruni, Chitra Banerjee. Queen of Dreams. 2004. FIC DIVAKARUNI
Ephron, Amy. One Sunday Morning. 2005. FIC EPHRON A
Moriarty, Laura. The Center of Everything. FIC MORIARTY L
Southgate, Martha. Third Girl From the Left. 2005. FIC SOUTHGATE M
Stansbury, Nicole. Places to Look for a Mother. 2002. FIC STANSBURY N