Throughout history legions of visitors have marveled at the beauty of France and the people, culture, and food of the sun-drenched land. Visitors have not only enjoyed their time in the country, but they have also been quick to write about their impressions and memories.

Reading a heartfelt memoir can be as exciting as visiting the described area for the first time. Reading travel memoirs is a great way to expand your horizons and to see the world in new ways.

The below listing of books on this listing are in the Library collection and may be found using the underlined “Call Number” after each title. The Newton Free Library and the Minuteman Library Network libraries have many other travel memoirs of countries and places all over the world. Ask a librarian, if you need help.
